SPINK'S BASEBALL DOPE BOOK MAKES ITS ANNUAL DEBUT

Special Attention is Given to New Home Run Record of Babe Ruth

First signs of the arrival of the baseball season of 1922 were evident with the departure of the major league players for their training camps, but that the season has surely arrived is now certain with the appearance of the first schedule and record book. As usual it is The Dope Book, published by the A. C. Spink and Son, St. Louis Mo., publishers of "The Sporting News."

A new feature of this book this year is the appearance of practically all the minor league schedules in connection with the major league dates given day by day. Special attention is also devoted to playing records established last year, considerable space being given to details covering the new home run record of Babe Ruth. Among other features are a special section devoted to complete biographies of the stars of the major league teams, instructions on how to compute batting averages, how to compute fielding averages, the names of players in which major and minor league teams play, etc.

If you want one of these booklets, respocter in time, that may be carried at all times, as a source of arguments, you may have a copy by simply sending ten cents to A. C. Spink and Son, St. Louis, Mo., who will forward one of them promptly to the readers of this paper.

STATE BUREAU CALLS FOR GREATER EFFORT IN WAR ON WEEDS

MADISON, Wis.—Failure of some town chairmen to aid in weed control has resulted in great increase of the area infested by the noxious growths, the state department of agriculture tells town officers in a letter mailed Saturday.

The department points out that under the state weed control law, enforcement is placed with the local township, village and city officials, who are charged with appointment of a weed commissioner. Many local communities have failed to comply with this provision of the statutes, it is said.

Town chairmen are urged to appoint commissioners and start an early and aggressive campaign against weeds, as a public duty to see that their further spread is prevented.

The legislature strengthened the weed control law at the last session, by giving additional authority to the weed commissioners who may take steps to guard against the spread of the useless plants on farms.

STATE CASE AGAINST TOMAH MERCANTILE COMPANY COLLAPSES

Admit Fair Price and Profit and Judge Holds There's to Evidence of Price-Fixing

TOMAH, Wis.—The Tomah Journal prints the following review of the trial of the Tomah Cash Mercantile company on charges made by the state alleging price-fixing which resulted in expropriation of the company by Judge Smalley:

"The case of the state of Wisconsin vs. the Tomah Cash Mercantile Co. of this city, was tried in circuit court at Tomah, Wis., on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 1 and 2, 1935, before Judge Smalley, presiding."

"The case was heard on the evidence of the state, which was presented by Attorney General K. J. Clifton, and on the evidence of the defense, which was presented by Attorney Daniel H. Brady of Portage."

"The above named company was charged with having conspired with other Tomah dealers to control prices of goods and services in the city of Tomah. The defense was based on evidence that the company was a legitimate business and was not a price-fixing organization."

"The jury returned a verdict in favor of the state, finding that the company had conspired with other dealers to control prices of goods and services in the city of Tomah."

"The state admitted that prices of goods and services in the city of Tomah were not fixed by the company, but that the company had conspired with other dealers to control prices of goods and services in the city of Tomah."

"The jury found that the company had conspired with other dealers to control prices of goods and services in the city of Tomah, and that the company had expropriated the company by Judge Smalley."

"MORALS"—RIVOLI

Those pessimistic persons who bewail the "cheapness" of motion pictures should all see "Morals" before it closes tonight at the Rivoli theater. For "Morals" is none other than a screen version of that delightfully whimsical novel by William J. Locke, "The Morals of Marcus Ordway." So here is the best of modern British literature brought to the screen without injury in the transition.

Those who admired the remarkable human appeal of May McAvoy in "The Call of Home" will have additional cause to commend that quality after seeing "Morals." She makes the little Anglo-Turkish harem girl a real person, a maid whose developing character provides new pleasures as the picture proceeds on its way. William J. Carlton is an excellent choice for Sir Marcus Ordway. The same dignified appearance and underling emotional ability that made successful him in good stand for the scenes where his staid English household is thoroughly upset by the innocent unconventionalities of the surprising Calcutta.

"BEAU REVEL"—MAJESTIC

When father and son find that they are in love with the same girl there is bound to be a dramatic situation of remarkable power and in Thomas J. Yancey's picture of Louis Joseph Yancey's novel, "Beau Revel" shown at the Majestic for the last time today, it forms one of the best scenes ever shown on the screen. The father-son love story is well played by that popular actor, Lewis Stone. This scene is Lloyd Hughes, the new Thomas J. Yancey, who did such good work in several recent pictures. Florence Vidor gives a capable presentation of Nellie Steele, the dancer. The scenes in the dancing club are some of the most elaborate shown in this theater for some time and the same lavish note prevails in the beautiful long island estates. The supporting company is above the average.

TOM MIX—LA CROSSE

Another speedy Tom Mix picture, full of stunts and tricks and good humor, will open at the La Crosse theater today. It is a production called "Up and Going," a story of the Canadian Northwest, written by Mix and his director, Lynn Reynolds. Action and picturesqueness, "Up and Going" is said to be Mix's most excellent.

RIVIERA TODAY

To be the favorite of the public is one thing, but to be a favorite and popular with the members of your own profession is yet another thing, and a true test of greatness. There is not another actress who is so beloved by all who know her, from prop boys to players and directors, as Pauline Frederick.

There is not another actor or actress in picturedom who wouldn't gladly give up a big role with some other star, to play even a "bit" with Miss Frederick or "Polly," as she is affectionately called by all her intimates. At Riviera today in "Two Kinds of Women."

STRAND TODAY

"The Call of Home," being distributed at the Strand theater today, touches a lofty peak of perfection in the skill with which the story has been developed and the numerous thrills the play embraces—chief of which is a flood scene of matchless realism.

CASINO TODAY

Handy Gordon, well known young leading man, who has an important role in the all-star array of players who appear in William Christy Cabanne's epic drama, "Beyond the Rainbow," now at the Casino theater, has had a varied career.

For three years he appeared on the legitimate stage, playing for some time in a Canadian stock company and later under both the Frohman and Brainerd managements. He played a small part with Ethel Barrymore on the stage in "Our Mrs. McChesney," and when Miss Barrymore made the play into a screen production, she chose Mr. Gordon as her leading man. From then on he won a high position as a leading man on the screen.

BADGER SCHOOLS TO JOIN IN OBSERVING GRANT ANNIVERSARY

G. A. R. Asks Co-operation of Department of Education in Planning Celebration

MADISON, Wis.—Schools of Wisconsin will co-operate in commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of General U. S. Grant, on April 27, John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction, advises county and city superintendents in a letter sent to them Saturday.

Officers of the Grand Army of the Republic have asked the co-operation of school officials of the state in arranging programs for the occasion. The state superintendent asked that all local school officers do what they can to provide special affairs on the afternoon of April 27.

"I know that schools will gladly comply with the request to the end that a deep and abiding impression may be made upon the hearts of the youth of the state in paying tribute to the memory of a great American soldier and statesman," Mr. Callahan said in his letter.

A program for the occasion has been arranged by the state superintendent which includes music and discussions of the life of the civil war general.

Better Gray Than Dyed

Grayness of the hair is more often hereditary than not. Sometimes worry, anxiety, a diseased condition of the scalp will help along the gray hairs. Aside from removing these latter causes, there is not much one can do for it. If you once start dyeing it, you are in for a lifetime of care on it. And then dyed hair, unless extremely cleverly done and dyed as near the original color as possible, is apt to be quite ugly.

MORGAN ASSISTANT GIVEN INDEFINITE LEAVE OF ABSENCE

MADISON, Wis.—Julius T. Dithmar, for seven years assistant attorney general of Wisconsin, has been granted an indefinite leave of absence from the department beginning with Saturday, according to a letter of Attorney General E. E. Dithmar, former lieutenant governor of the state. He was appointed to attorney general staff by W. C. Owen and has been retained in the department since. Mr. Dithmar has made no announcement of his future plans. Before coming to Madison several years ago he practiced law at Elroy.

As a result of Mr. Dithmar's leaving for an indefinite leave of absence, there will be a slight reorganization in the attorney general's department. It is understood that the position of law clerk may be created and that this position may be filled with two part time law students from the university.

Edward Thiel, Madison, who for five years past has acted as messenger in the attorney general's department, will leave the service on April 15th, according to an announcement.

SCORE OF COUNTIES PLANNING CONCRETE HIGHWAYS IN 1921

600,000 MEN OUT CLAIM OF UNION CHIEFS

Companies operating 260 collieries and employing about 1,500,000 men were idle. For the anthracite field it was the first general suspension since 1912.

Real Test Monday
Officials of both sides to the controversy admit, however, that a real test on the walkout in the bituminous field cannot be had before Monday, inasmuch as Saturday is an annual holiday in the mining camps in celebration of the eight-hour day.

An outward calm prevailed at union headquarters at Indianapolis and officials there declared their future program would be determined largely by developments. The suspension is being directed by district leaders with responsibility for general leadership resting with International President John L. Lewis. Mr. Lewis will go to Washington Monday to appear before a house labor committee investigating the coal situation.

In Kansas a peculiar situation has arisen in connection with the strike, the industrial court of that state having issued an order to the miners that they must remain at work. Union leaders, however, have ordered their men to walk out, and operators conceded that the shut-down in the Kansas field will be complete. Nevertheless a rest on the coal fields will not come before Monday because of Saturday's holiday.

Good Supply on Hand
The country is well prepared with coal stocks, the largest since the armistice. Railroads have stocks to keep trains in operation for from two to four months and because of the season of the year the general consumer is not expected to feel any effect of the strike for some time to come.

The administration at Washington having decided upon a policy of non-interference at this stage, viewed the beginning of the strike today with the protection of the general public in the matter of coal supply and prices as its uppermost concern. The administration is said to be convinced any effort to intervene now in local or extra-local ways would be futile.

Wage Loss $800,000 Daily
The daily loss of production in anthracite fields was estimated at 200,000 tons and the daily loss in wages at present rates in that branch of the industry at $800,000, affecting 20,000 families.

Action to prevent a protracted strike of nearly 12,000 miners in Western Canada was started in Calgary by the government conciliation board.

The rail northwest reported supplies sufficient for about two months with more than eighteen million tons piled up by the railroads and the Duluth docks at the head of the lakes.

Operators in the Morgantown district of West Virginia announced they would reopen on Monday on an open shop basis.

100 Percent Effective
WILKINSBARRE, Pa. — The suspension of the anthracite fields was 100 percent effective. Only those of the 3,000 men permitted to work for the protection of property made their way to and from the collieries.

Mine workers declared there will be no need for display of police power. District President Thomas Kennedy of the United Mine Workers, was emphatic on this point, declaring "there is no occasion for frenzied police activity."

There is scarcely an acre in the anthracite fields that is not under the surveillance of police and deputy sheriffs.

Many foreign-born mine workers today were planning to leave for their native lands, some to return when the suspension is over and others to live at their old homes upon their savings.

At Bridgeport, Ohio, approximately 10,000 foreign-born workers are preparing to visit relatives across the sea according to Frank Ledvinka, subdivision president. Several had passports and left for New York to take passage.

Celebrate 8-hour day
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Complete cessation of coal production by union miners was accomplished Saturday, the first of their nation-wide suspension of work.

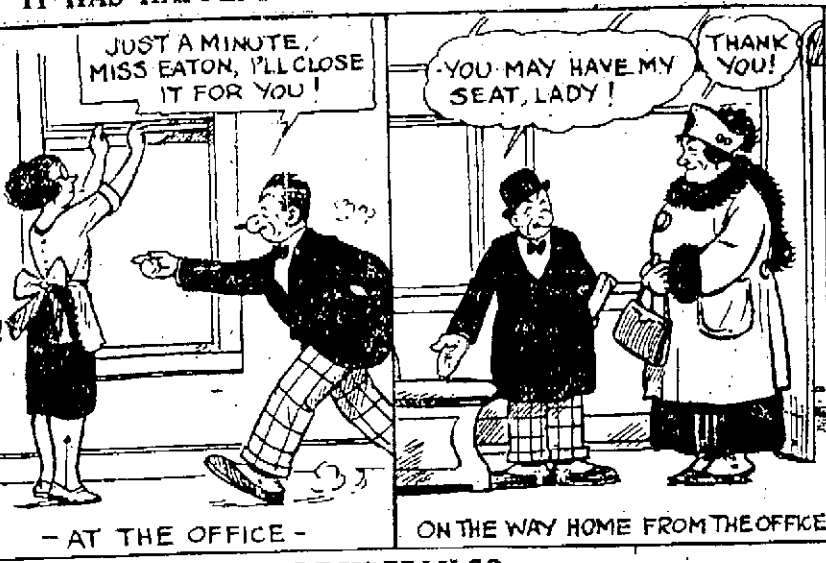

Reports to headquarters here of the United Mine Workers of America showed a shut-down in every field, with the only uncertainty as to the effectiveness of the suspension being the number of nonunion miners who had joined the walkout.

No direct reports from union agents among the nonunion miners had reached headquarters here at noon. The complete shut-down of the anthracite fields where almost half of the men are not members of the union was gratifying to the union officials. The holiday of the miners in celebration of the anniversary of the

STOCKS IN REACTION

Prices Down After Firm Opening on Selling of Market Leaders
NEW YORK—Trading in stocks during Saturday's two-hour session was governed by the usual week-end sentiment of speculative traders. After a firm opening prices reacted on selling of market leaders.

Among the leaders included Bethlehem steel, Baldwin locomotive, and other heavy industrial stocks. The market rallied later on the demand for common and preferred, the California Oil, Mail Order issues, copper and junior rails. The latter included Pacific preferred and Washburn preferred at gains of 1 and 1 1/2 points.

The close was strong, with prices changing very little. The market opened at 11:11 but lost another half cent in the first hour. There was scattered liquidation by the commission houses on the way. Local traders tried to check the movement at around 11:31 for May but had little outside help and shortly showed a disposition to let the market go. Foreign demand was reported as flat.

Prices fluctuated in narrow limits during the rest of the session. A rally in the last thirty minutes brought prices up to about the opening and at the close May was $1.21 1/2, July $1.04 1/2, September $1.12 and September $1.04 1/2. Corn started unchanged to 1/2 cent lower, with May 57 1/2 to 57 3/4, July 59 1/2 and September 59 1/2. Soybean dropped to a new low but the market stiffened on reports of good European demand at about the opening prices.

Corn finally shook off the depressing influence of wheat and on continued seaboard encouragement registered net gains for the day. The close was May 57 1/2 to 57 3/4, July 59 1/2 and September 59 1/2. Initial prices were 57 1/2 to 57 3/4, which was within the range of the lowest figure on the crop. Provisions were unchanged, beef and pork for live hogs and the weakness in grain prices.

TWIN CITY CRITICS LIKE VODVIL ACTORS DUE HERE SUNDAY

Vanderbilt attractions for the Majestic Sunday are almost all from the Minneapolis and St. Paul vaudeville theaters, whence they depart leaving a wake of highly favorable comment from the Twin City press. For instance: "Al Raymond and Tom Schram in syncretized songs of the sort that sets a vaudeville audience tingling with pleasure."

"Mildred" of Mildred, Franklin and Rose, dancers, "is a very clever and graceful boy and Miss Franklin something more than a foil. Their touch dance is a very good piece of comedy."

"Mell Klee, blackface funster, keeps the audience in an uproar of laughter."

That's a sample of the way the critics of the St. Paul Pioneer Press and the Minneapolis Tribune liked some of the leaders of the Sunday show here. There are four other acts of equal merit, beside those noticed.

The Swiss increased their guard over him, but on October 22 he reached Raab Hungary, having crossed the Swiss frontier in a "legitimate cabinet" at Raab and marched on Budapest with an army of 12,000 men.

Refused to Obdicate
The Hungarian government sent legal troops against him and he was finally captured with his wife near Kismarton and confined in the castle at Tata Tovaros until the entente allies, determined that he should not again have an opportunity to attempt a coup, sent him to Madeira.

Charles still refused to abdicate, and the Hungarian government, on demand of the allies, passed a bill in the national assembly deposing him and permanently ousting the Hapsburg regime.

A few days later he and Zita were conveyed by a British warship to Puna where they arrived November 10, 1921.

MRS. FRANK MILEY GRANTED A DIVORCE, CHILDREN'S CUSTODY

Mrs. Boubal H. Miley was granted a divorce from Frank Miley by circuit court Saturday morning by Judge Hiebee. The trial of the case was held several weeks ago. After all evidence had been in the court indicated he would grant a divorce to Mrs. Miley but wished to have further information regarding the home surroundings of the two Miley children who were then living with their mother at their grandmother's home in Milwaukee. District Attorney Rod reported that investigation proved to him that the home surroundings of the children were of the best. The court then awarded the children to the mother. Miley also has been ordered to pay alimony of $35 on the first and fifteenth of each month. The court refused to pass on the disposition of the household property that now is in the Miley home which is occupied by Frank Miley.
